

PERMANENT CURES

Varicocele, Hydrocele, Hernia, Piles, Fistula
NO DETENTION FROM FAMILY, HOME OR OCCUPATION.
Many Cases Permanently Cured in One Treatment

VARICOCELE.

Varicocele causes more human wrecks than most other diseases of men. These worms congested veins of stagnant blood sap up human vitality and destroys manly vigor. It is responsible for poor development of the parts and denies strength to otherwise healthy men. A few days at most is all we require to effect a permanent cure, not weeks or months of endless doctoring. You do not lose any time, suffer no pain whatever and have no after trouble.

HYDROCELE.

Our treatment for hydrocele is entirely original with us. No matter of how long standing, or what the causes may be, we effect a permanent cure in a few days. Swelling immediately disappears. No pain, no loss of time, no detention from business. Absolutely painless.

HERNIA-REPTURE.

A neglected rupture may prove fatal. Many have proven so. The smaller it may be the greater the danger of strangulation, then there is little if any hope, as most cases in this stage prove fatal. A few days and a permanent cure is effected. No loss of time or detention from business. Absolutely painless.

EX-CHAMPION, JOE GANS DIES OF CONSUMPTION

without parallel. Gans, after having been knocked out by Terry McGovern eight years previously, surprised the entire fighting world by a "come back" that has often been declared impossible. After that defeat, during the years 1901 to 1908, he moved everything down that stood before him in the pugilistic field. Frequently he weighed down to 133 pounds, although it was a terrific strain, but was always willing to try to make the weight in order not to miss the fight. At one time he was both lightweight and welterweight champion.

Was Great Fighter.

He was considered by the greatest analysts of prize fighting to be the best combination of brawler, boxer and ring general that ever assayed the game. Although a negro of humble origin, he was a model of consideration and politeness. He never sought the limelight, kept among his own race and was the personification of cheerfulness. He began his bread winning career in a Baltimore fish market. By prudence he saved a good part of his ring earnings and invested profitably in a Baltimore hotel, which he said frequently paid him all he needed.

After his last battle with Battling Nelson, Gans went west and reports came east almost immediately that the beating he had received and the strain to train down had undermined his constitution. Gans denied the reports, but sporting men who met him declared him to be but a shadow of his former self.

Gans Was Married Three Times.

In 1900 he wedded Miss Madge Wadkins, of Cincinnati, a member of a negro theatrical company. In 1908 the announcement of his third marriage—this time to Miss Martha Davis, of Baltimore, was made. The exact cause of Gans' death may be learnedly filed by the physicians, but Father Time and the pummelings received in over 150 ring battles do not leave much doubt as to what finally laid the once great fighter away.

REAL ESTATE MEN TO PLAY BANKERS

Want to Raise Funds for Rio Grande Valley Exhibit At Pueblo.

If Pop Anson could hire a Hamilton aeroplane and journey down to El Paso in a few weeks he would have the treat of his life. The money changers and the men who hand them the coin realized from the sale of El Paso city and county dirt are going to cross hats at Washington park. That is, they are going to play baseball, the real estate men are, if the bankers will agree to meet them.

With blood in their eyes the men who sift the sands of El Paso value have come out with the broadest challenge that can possibly be issued and they will play any bankers who can be found, though they stipulate that their opponents shall not belong to the game sand bank for they require all the dust they can get to fill the sacks at the three corners of the diamond.

The purpose of the game is an admirable one, it being decided that El Paso shall be represented at the annual irrigation congress, which this year, will be held at Pueblo, Colo. The real estate men want the Rio Grande valley to have an exhibit there and this is the best and easiest way to raise the funds.

As soon as the bankers accept the challenge, and it is expected that they will, an open date will be secured at the park and the spiked shoes and muzzled faces will be much in evidence. Bankers never work Saturday afternoons and the real estate men have decreed that on the particular occasion of the baseball game they will close their offices and go to the game, not forgetting to take along the whole family, even if there be a dozen children in each one's brood.

The real estate men's challenge follows:

Challenge.
We, the undersigned real estate men of El Paso, do hereby and now challenge the bankers of El Paso to a game of baseball, to be played at Washington park, at some open date, all of the net proceeds to go toward defraying the expense of a display of the products of the Rio Grande valley at the irrigation congress, at Pueblo, Colo., this fall. Said answer to be accepted through publication in this paper.

SPORTLETS.

(By Tim.)

John Kling says it's hard to come back. Let's see, who said that was easy just before July 4?

They are using petrol fumes to kill insects. Why not try it in place of a screen at Washington park, foul flies are so dangerous.

Washington broke even at Cleveland Tuesday. Cleveland won the first, 7 to 1, and the visitors made a one run shut out at the second game. It rained.

Also St. Louis and New York shared honors. St. Louis took the first game, 2-1, and the visitors the second, 8-0.

Oldring's single through Davy Jones, a sacrifice fly, and Davy's home run, gave Philadelphia a 3-1 victory at Detroit Tuesday.

Boston hit White for 14 in 7-13 innings Tuesday, and yet Chicago won, 7 to 4. The home team made 11 hits.

Harmon allowed eight runs in the third inning of Tuesday's New York-St. Louis game. It ended 9-4 for York.

It took 13 innings to settle the first game of a double header at Brooklyn Tuesday. It went to Cincinnati, 1-0, and also the second game, 7-2.

Such a shut out. Pittsburgh, 9, Boston 0. With two exceptions every visitor made two safe hits, and Wagner got three. Flynn made a complete circuit.

Denver lost the last game of the home series with Des Moines Tuesday. It was 5-6 one, Denver trying two pinch pitchers with no luck.

Lincoln took both games of a double header with Topeka Tuesday. Batting and scoring were too heavy to mention.

A sixth inning batting rally saved Omaha from a shut out at St. Joseph Tuesday. It ended 4-4 tie.

Frank E. Bearepaire, of Victoria, Australia, last night broke the world's swimming record for 300 meters, 300 yards and 300 meters at the Exeter baths, London. The time of the respective distances were two minutes, 30 seconds; three minutes, 30 seconds, and 3 minutes, 50-1-5 seconds.

Gauget rode three winners Tuesday at Butte. Miss Naomi's victory in the fourth was one of the features of the day. She skipped in apparently without half trying.

Ad Wolgast, lightweight champion, and Freddie Cole, of Muncie, Ind., boxed six rounds at Muncie last night before several thousand spectators.

No decision was given, but Wolgast was cool and master all the way.

Favorites had another good day in the grand circuit races Tuesday at North Randall. In only one event were the forecasts upset. That was in the concluding race, when Fuzz Johnson, a black stallion, driven by Frank Jones, of Memphis, beat Louis W. Wilman's chestnut mare Dora, after a hard struggle. The event was the 2:15 trot, and four heats were necessary before Fuzz Johnson was finally declared the winner. The $3000 Edwards stake went to The Abbe.

The form players received a hard blow at Saratoga Tuesday, when Mollie Levy, 7 to 10 favorite, was disqualified for a foul after she finished in front in the Seneca selling stakes. She repeatedly interfered with several horses during the running and the stewards called several boys into the stand. After hearing their stories the filly was disqualified.

Republican Nominee For Governor

HON. J. O. TERRELL, OF SAN ANTONIO.

J. O. Terrell of San Antonio, the nominee for governor of Texas of the Republican party, is a native Texan, having been born in Kaufman county in April, 1856. His father was Jonathan W. Terrell, a staunch Union man and a warm friend of Gen. Sam Houston. Mr. Terrell was one of the men who fought bitterly the removal of Houston from the office of governor.

J. O. Terrell was raised on a farm, working as a farm hand and as a cowboy. He became an expert teamster, being able to manage with ease several yokes of oxen. In September, 1875, he sold his oxen and with the money secured from that source he entered Trinity university at Tehuacana. He remained in this institution for two and one-half years.

On returning to Kaufman county he was employed as editor of The Star, now The Times Star, the leading publication of Terrell. While working as an editor he studied law and was admitted to the bar in April, 1877.

In December, 1877, he was married to Miss Mattie Simpson of Terrell. They were the parents of four children, Marshall W., Chester H., Dick O. and Miss Mattie Terrell.

Used To Be a Democrat.
Mr. Terrell's first and only office was that of state senator. He was elected from the Dallas district in 1884 and served during the nineteenth and twentieth legislatures. He was chairman of the judiciary committee.

In the Hogg-Clark contests he supported George Clark. After the defeat of Mr. Clark he urged the Clark faction to leave the Democratic party and has often expressed regret that they did not take his advice.

As far back as 1887 he declared himself in favor of a moderate protective tariff and against the generally accepted doctrine of absolutely free raw material. He was actively opposed to the doctrine of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and wrote and spoke in behalf of the gold standard. He voted against Wm. J. Bryan and for Wm. McKinley. He also supported Wm. H. Taft for president.

Lives at San Antonio.
On account of the ill health of his wife he removed to San Antonio in 1895 and has since that time been engaged in the practice of law there. Not only has he succeeded at the bar, but has been a leader in the commercial world of the city, being at the head of a number of important enterprises.

His hobby has been the raising of fine stock and at one time he owned the largest herd of full blood Jersey cattle in the world. Shetland ponies raised on his farm had a national reputation.

Mr. Terrell has always been an enthusiastic believer in the upbuilding of Texas and will make the race for governor, pledging his best efforts to help the progress and prosperity of the state in every way in his power, should he be elected.

In addition to his law practice, he is resident of the Central Trust company and acting president of the Texas Surety and Insurance company, two of the strongest financial institutions of San Antonio.

TWO DEATHS IN THE TEMPLARS' BIG PARADE

Man is Crushed by Street Car and Another Falls From and is Dragged By His Horse.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 10.—One tragic death, one accident that physicians say will prove fatal, and a dozen minor mishaps, due to the crowds, cast a shadow over Tuesday's parade of what Masons say was the greatest number of Knights' Templar ever formed in line in any city.

There were over 40,000 knights in line, with over half a million spectators. The first note of tragedy came when Hermann Gressmann of Chicago, on his way to his commandery, was caught in the "death trap," between two cars, and died on his way to the hospital.

In the grandstand, two blocks away, Mrs. Gressmann, unidentified for three hours, while she scanned the marchers for her husband, not learning of his death until the parade had passed.

William Hackett, a knight from Fostoria, Ohio, was thrown from his horse and dragged with his heel in the stirrup for a block before the animal was stopped. His injuries will prove fatal.

In addition to these accidents scores of women fainted in the crush.
